Start a little magic

Your printing and personalisation guide

Choose your paper size

Open either A4 or US Letter to match your paper. Each version has the same content. Print single-sided at Actual size / 100%. Turn off Fit, Shrink and borderless enlargement. Leave all printer margins on; no design needs edge-to-edge printing.

Personalise before you print

Download and open the PDF in a desktop PDF reader with form support, such as Adobe Acrobat Reader. Click the name and message lines, type, then Save As a new copy. Reopen it to check your entries. Only marked fields are editable; artwork and other text stay fixed. You can also write by hand.

Paper and finishing

Use ordinary 90-120 gsm paper for activities and letters. For tags, props and cards, use 160-200 gsm cardstock if your printer supports it. Cut on solid outer outlines; fold on dashed lines. An adult handles scissors and small pieces. Keep paper crafts away from flames and young children who mouth objects.

Print a test first

Print this page and measure the line below: it must be exactly 50 mm (about 1.97 inches). Home printers and paper vary; check one page before printing the pack. Colours can differ from the screen. The low-ink edition uses black linework and white backgrounds.

50 mm scale check

For personal household use. Print again for your household; do not resell, redistribute or upload these files. Digital product: no physical items are included.

The grown-up guide

A simple plan for a joyful December

Make it your own

Designed for ages 5-10 with adult help. Use one activity a day from 1-24 December, or choose the days you like. Swap, skip or repeat freely. A toy elf is optional: use our paper standees or imagine an invisible visitor.

A five-minute evening routine

Read tomorrow's parent setup. Print only that page. Cut the child note and prop away from the grown-up instructions, then place them with your elf. Most setups take about 2-5 minutes; crafts may take 5-10. Choose the arrival OR return letter at the start, and save the goodbye letter for your final day.

Your small supplies basket

Paper, pencils, crayons, removable tape, glue stick and adult scissors. Also useful: a toy elf or standee, a few toys, two clean socks, small basket, books, a cloth, four safe household objects, blocks or an empty box. No special food, glitter, balloons or purchases are required.

Keep the magic comfortable

Read clues aloud for younger children. Let drawing replace writing. Keep play on tables or floors, with no climbing or running. These elves encourage play and kindness; they do not watch, judge or threaten children. Adapt any activity to your child's needs.

Find your pieces

E01-E24 are the daily pages. Each has a cut-out child note and matching prop. The three letters follow the daily pages. Extra standees, signs, tiny post and blank notes come afterwards. The next two pages are your quick setup calendar. For the extra treasure note at the end, hide a small surprise beside the usual shoe storage first.

02 / Kindness post

Grown-up setup above; cut out the two pieces below.

YOU WILL NEED

Pencil, crayons

Put the kindness postcard beside a pencil. Help your child choose someone to thank. Deliver the completed postcard together.

DAY 02 / ELF POST

Kindness post

The best post carries kindness. Draw or write a little thank-you for someone who helps you. A few kind words can warm a whole winter day.

03 / Snowflake studio

Grown-up setup above; cut out the two pieces below.

YOU WILL NEED

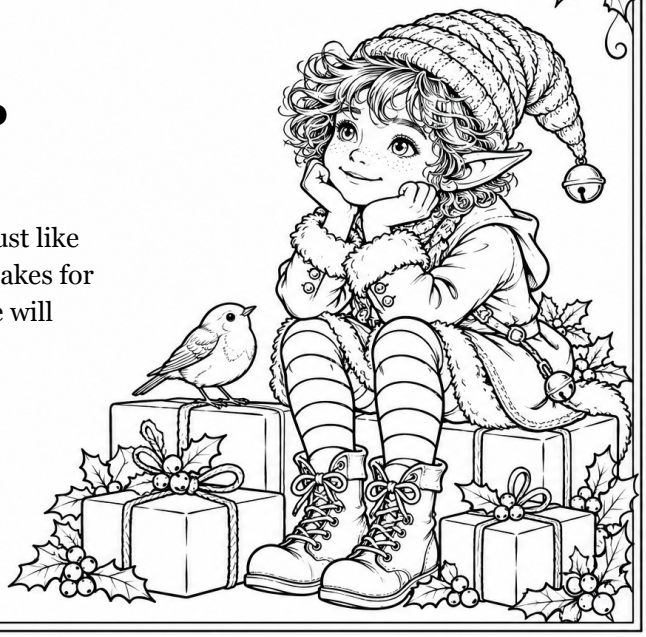

Paper, crayons; adult scissors

Set out the design card and crayons. Draw three different snowflakes. An adult can cut out the finished card for a miniature gallery.

DAY 03 / ELF POST

Snowflake studio

Every snowflake is different, just like our ideas. Design three snowflakes for my winter window. Which one will you name the Twinkleflake?

SNOWFLAKE STUDIO

Draw three different snowflakes.

04 / Sock skating rink

Grown-up setup above; cut out the two pieces below.

YOU WILL NEED

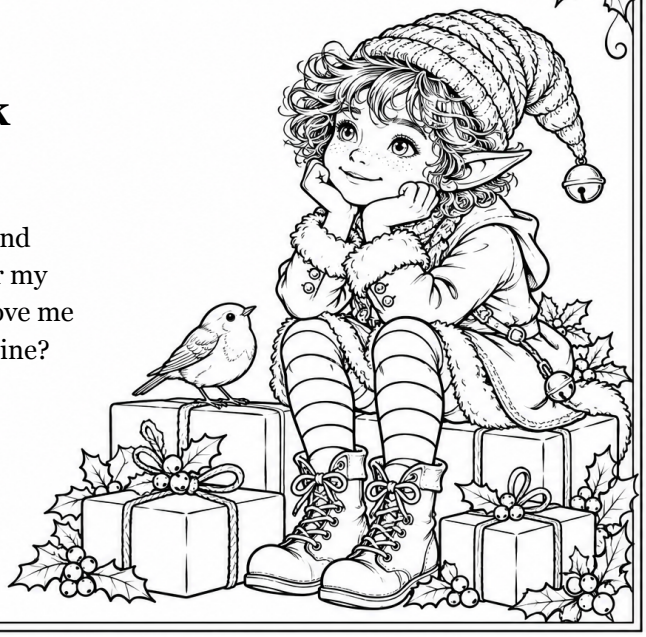

Two clean socks, paper, pencil

Lay two socks flat beside the rink sign. Sit the elf on one sock. Invite your child to draw a route around the sign; skate the toy by hand on a table.

DAY 04 / ELF POST

Sock skating rink

My socks make splendid pretend skates! Draw a twisty route for my tiny skating show. Can you move me around it without leaving the line?

CUT ON OUTER LINES / NOTE: 150 x 100 mm / PROP: 170 x 65 mm

NORTH POLE ICE RINK

Draw a looping skating route. Move a toy along it by hand.

05 / Reindeer training

Grown-up setup above; cut out the two pieces below.

YOU WILL NEED

Three paper balls, empty basket

Place the training sign next to a low basket. Scrunch three pieces of scrap paper. From one large step away, take turns tossing them into the basket.

DAY 05 / ELF POST

Reindeer training

The reindeer are practising gentle landings. Toss three paper snowballs into a basket. Count your landings, then let someone else have a turn.

13 / Colour detective

Grown-up setup above; cut out the two pieces below.

YOU WILL NEED

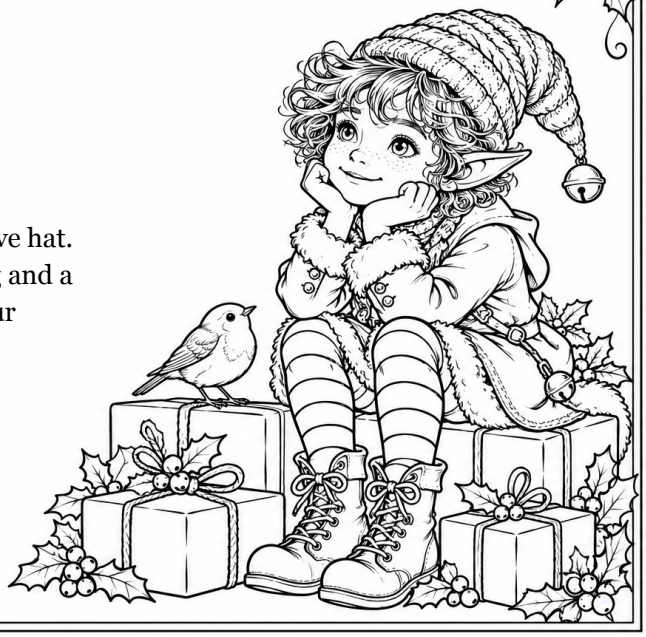

Crayons, safe indoor objects

Keep the search in one safe room. Look for something red, green and gold or yellow. Draw the finds; no need to move fragile objects.

DAY 13 / ELF POST

Colour detective

Put on your imaginary detective hat. Find a red thing, a green thing and a gold or yellow thing. Draw your festive discoveries.

14 / Build a sleigh

Grown-up setup above; cut out the two pieces below.

YOU WILL NEED

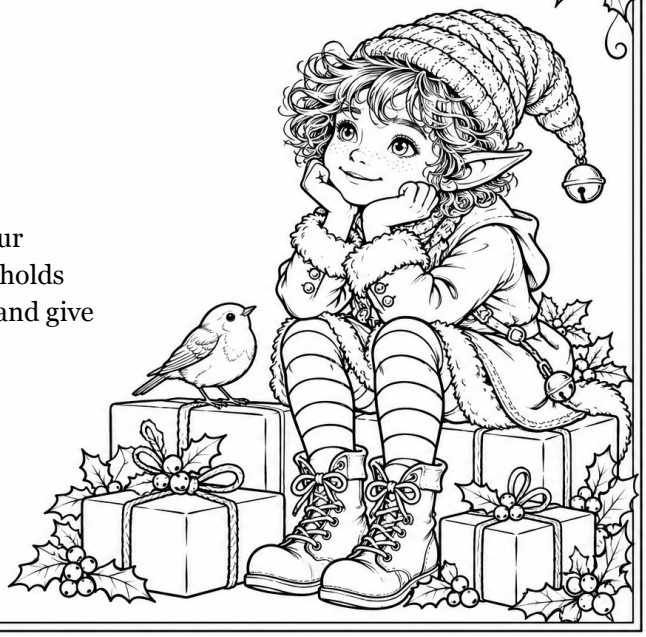

Building blocks or small box, pencil

Place the design card near blocks or an empty box. Design a small toy sleigh on a table. Test whether it holds one toy while standing still.

DAY 14 / ELF POST

Build a sleigh

The sleigh workshop needs your ideas. Build a little sleigh that holds one toy. Draw your invention and give it a magnificent name.

CUT ON OUTER LINES / NOTE: 150 x 100 mm / PROP: 170 x 65 mm

SLEIGH DESIGN LAB

Sleigh name: Draw your clever design.

15 / Thank-you station

Grown-up setup above; cut out the two pieces below.

YOU WILL NEED

Pencil, crayons

Help your child choose someone to thank. Complete the card with a specific kind action. Give or read it to the person when convenient.

DAY 15 / ELF POST

Thank-you station

Someone has made your day brighter. Write or draw a thank-you and tell them what they did that mattered to you.

16 / Star designer

Grown-up setup above; cut out the two pieces below.

YOU WILL NEED

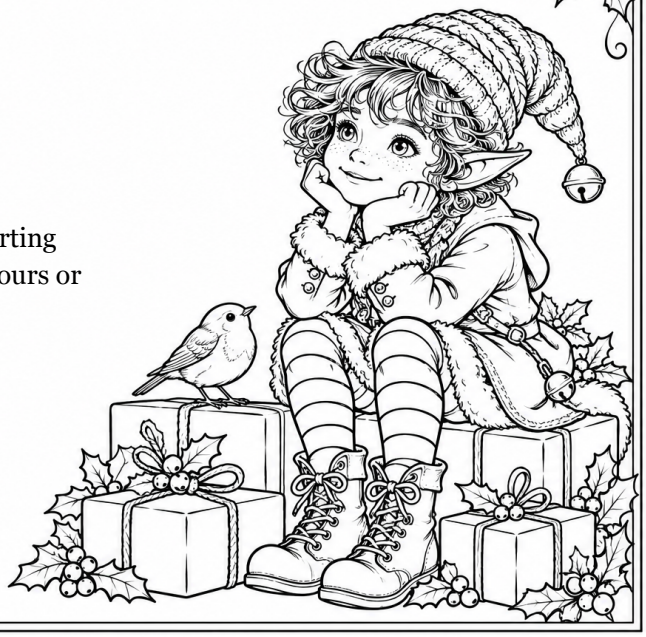

Crayons; adult scissors

Decorate the large star outline. An adult cuts around it. Attach it flat to a door or display board with removable tape; no hanging cord needed.

DAY 16 / ELF POST

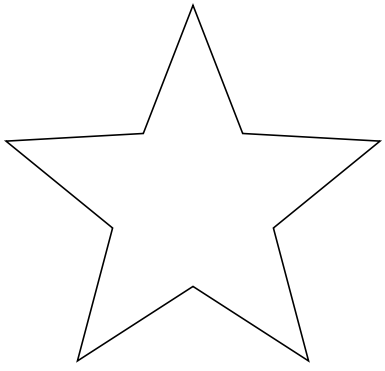

Star designer

Design a star for our snowy sorting office. Fill it with patterns, colours or one happy Christmas wish.

MY CHRISTMAS STAR

17 / Snowball roll

Grown-up setup above; cut out the two pieces below.

YOU WILL NEED

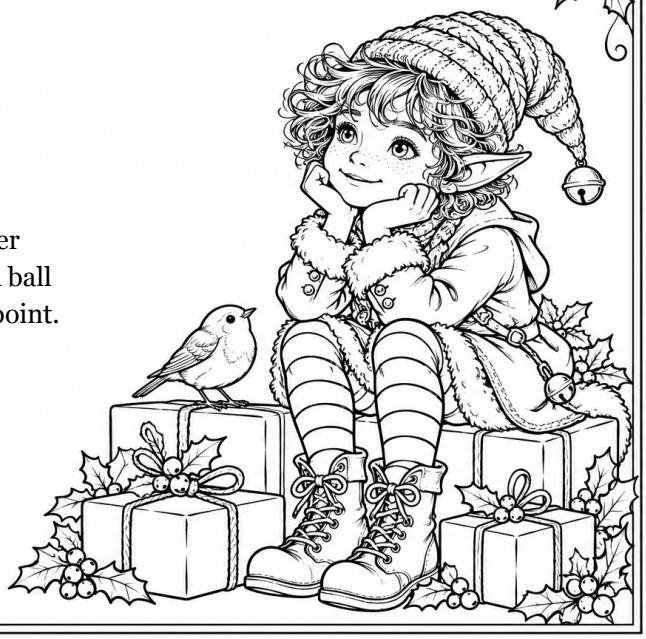

One paper ball, table, pencil

Place the target card flat on a clear table. Roll a scrunched paper ball towards it from 30 cm away. Have three tries each, keeping the ball on the table.

DAY 17 / ELF POST

Snowball roll

Ready, steady, roll! Roll a paper snowball towards my target. A ball touching the circle earns one point. Can we cheer for every try?

CUT ON OUTER LINES / NOTE: 150 x 100 mm / PROP: 170 x 65 mm

SNOWBALL LANDING PAD

Three rolls. Touch the circle = 1 point.

18 / Memory tray

Grown-up setup above; cut out the two pieces below.

YOU WILL NEED

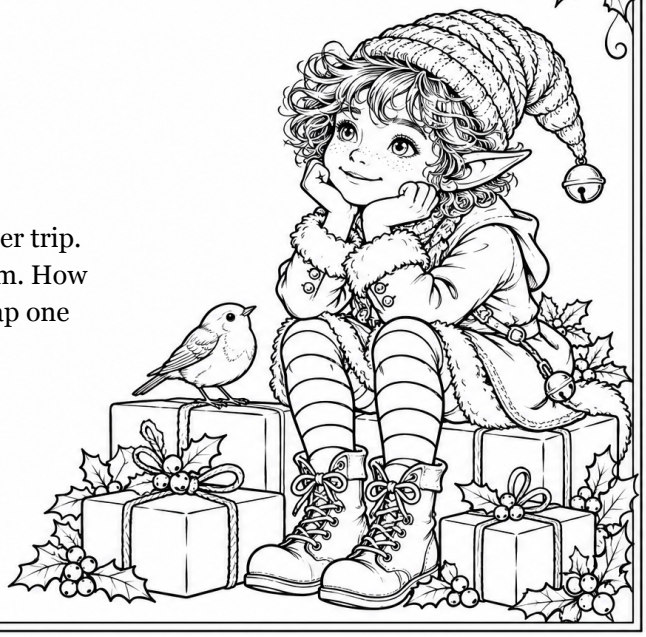

Four safe household objects, cloth

Choose four large everyday objects, such as a spoon, sock, book and cup. Look for 20 seconds. Cover them and name what you remember; reveal and check.

DAY 18 / ELF POST

Memory tray

I packed four things for a winter trip. Look carefully, then cover them. How many can you remember? Swap one thing and play again.

19 / Funny hat parade

Grown-up setup above; cut out the two pieces below.

YOU WILL NEED

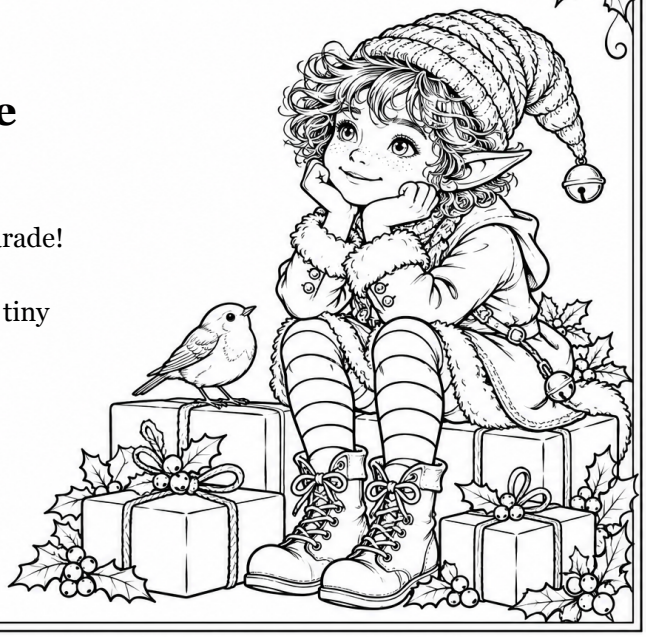

Paper, crayons

Draw the funniest hat you can imagine on the card. Give it a name. Hold a seated parade with everyone showing their drawings.

DAY 19 / ELF POST

Funny hat parade

Today is the North Pole hat parade! Design a hat with something surprising on top. A teapot? A tiny tree? You decide.

NORTH POLE POST OFFICE

A snowy hello

Dear

I have travelled from the North Pole Post Office with a bag full of tiny adventures. There are stories to share, things to make and little acts of kindness to try.

You can choose my name and help me feel at home. Some days we will be busy; some days we will keep things cosy and simple. A grown-up can move our adventures around whenever they need to.

Guess who is back?

Dear

The snowy post office has been buzzing, and I have been looking forward to another Christmas with you. My little bag is packed with fresh adventures and plenty of kindness.

Shall we remember something we loved last year, then make a new memory today? You have grown and learned so much, and there is still a whole world of wonderful things to imagine.

A little farewell

Dear

My North Pole postbag is ready, and it is time for me to head home. Thank you for the stories, the giggles and all the little moments we shared.

The magic we made can stay with you: in a kind word, a helping hand or a story told together. Keep our favourite memory somewhere safe, ready to look at another day.

A NOTE FROM MY COSY CORNER

A sleepy little elf

My North Pole journey left me extra sleepy, so I stayed in the same spot last night. A quiet day and a cosy rest will put the sparkle back in my boots.

Even elves need a little rest.

ONE LAST SPECIAL DELIVERY

Until next Christmas

My sleigh is packed and the North Pole is calling. Thank you for sharing your home and your Christmas adventures with me.

Keep being curious, helpful and wonderfully you.
